Pittsburgh Filmmakers

Pittsburgh Filmmakers is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization founded in 1971 as an equipment access center for independent media artists. Now one of the nation's leading media arts centers, Pittsburgh Filmmakers offers one of the most complete professional and artistic training programs in the media and photographic arts in the United States. Students receive professional training as well as opportunities to share in a broad range of experience through seminars, workshops, internship programs, screenings and exhibitions. Classes may be taken for credit under the auspices of local colleges and universities (see REGISTRATION). All classes are open to the public.

Prospective students should have a high school diploma or GED; high school seniors may petition for admittance (contact the Registrar for details).

Most classes at Pittsburgh Filmmakers meet weekly for fourteen weeks. Each full-semester class meeting is 3 hours long, for a total of 42 clock hours. Check the current class schedule for the meeting date and time for the class you are interested in. You may also check the current class schedule, available in hard copy as well as on our website, for semester beginning and end dates and holidays.

Pittsburgh Filmmakers classes are taught at our building at 477 Melwood Avenue, in North Oakland. This three-story building includes all Seminar Rooms, equipment rooms, editing suites, digital labs, and photo darkrooms, as well as the Liliput café, lounges and vending area for students and staff, two photography galleries, two screening rooms, and a small studio. The building is handicap-accessible, with the exception of two Seminar Rooms on the Mezzanine level.

1. Q: How much do classes cost?

A: Non-college independent student tuition for each full-semester course is $615 ($575 if paid online before the semester discount deadline). See the "Tuition/Course Fees" section on Page 9 for current rates and deadline. Course fees and expenses vary by course; see Q. 4 below.

A: There are three semesters per year. Fall and Winter/Spring semesters run for 14 weeks, September to December and January to April; Summer semesters run for 13 weeks, from May to early August.

4. Q: Is tuition all I have to pay?

A: A student must be prepared to pay for textbooks and other materials and processing charges not covered by tuition. See "Materials" (Page 14) for estimates of expenses for courses.

5. Q: Is financial aid available? Are scholarships or discounts offered?

A: Pittsburgh Filmmakers does not participate in Title IV financial aid programs. A limited number of scholarships are available to low-income students taking classes on an independent basis. Tuition discounts are available for PF/PCA Associate and Access Members.

6. Q: What is an "independent" student?

REGISTRATION

Students who register for advanced classes must have received a grade of “C” or better in prerequisite courses. If you wish to register for an intermediate or advanced level course and you have not taken the prerequisite course at Pittsburgh Filmmakers, you must obtain a Waiver of Prerequisite Course form from the Registrar. In cases where the prerequisite information for the course allows “permission,” a full-time faculty member may assess a student’s ability to enter the class and will sign the waiver form. In these cases the signature of the course instructor is not needed. If the prerequisite information for the course allows “permission of the instructor”, you should speak with the course instructor directly (the instructor’s phone number/email address may be obtained from the Registrar). The instructor must fill in the reason for allowing the waiver, and must sign and date the form. The completed form must be turned in to the Registrar with the registration form and payment.

Independent (non-credit students)

Registration for classes and workshops may be completed by paying tuition in person at Pittsburgh Filmmakers' Administrative offices (477 Melwood Ave. in Oakland) or by mailing payment to the Registrar, Pittsburgh Filmmakers, 477 Melwood Ave., Pittsburgh, PA 15213. Registrations may be placed by telephone or fax or online with a credit card number, expiration date, and cardholder name. Roster space is reserved only for students who have paid their tuition in full. Payment must be made in full at the time of registration. Early online registrants receive a significant discount (see "Tuition"). We recommend that you register early, since many course sections fill rapidly.

Pittsburgh Filmmakers' courses may be used for ACT 48 continuing education hours (contact Registrar for details; check appropriate box on registration form and supply your teacher ID number).

Classroom Hours

Studio courses in which students produce individual artwork, meet for 42 classroom hours. During the term, students are required to attend an additional 10 hours of a mixture of technical training sessions and supervised lab time. Studio courses require a minimum of six hours per week, on average, of additional outside work time. (Hours are proportionate to the described model for classes that differ in classroom hours.)

Non-studio courses meet for 42 classroom hours. Non-studio courses require a minimum of 6 hours per week, on average, of additional outside work time. (Hours are proportionate to the described model for classes that differ in classroom hours.)

Students may submit transcripts from other institutions for the purpose of obtaining advanced standing and permission to enroll in higher-level classes. If the coursework is applicable it will be evaluated by full-time faculty members who teach in the discipline under consideration (film, photography, video, digital media). The evaluation is based on course content and equivalency to courses (offered at Pittsburgh Filmmakers' School of Film, Photography and Digital Media), grades, and, in some cases, work produced in those courses. Faculty may speak with the student about course content before making a final determination.

Students may request transfer credit to fulfill specific required or elective courses in a Certificate program. If granted, this would allow the student (in consultation with their faculty advisor) to substitute a limited number of electives for required courses. In order to earn the School's Certificate, all students must successfully complete (12) 42 classroom hour courses at the School with an overall grade point average of 3.0 or better.

Veterans/dependents/ active duty military personnel using GI Bill benefits may request evaluation of coursework taken at other institutions to be applied as transfer credit. This evaluation will be done on an individual basis. If credit is granted, the length of the program may be shortened.

PRIVACY STATEMENT

Pittsburgh Filmmakers does not release private information to anyone without permission. We do share contact information (snail mail and electronic mail addresses) internally for purposes of bulk mailings, event announcements, and other items we consider of interest to our students and faculty. We do not sell our mailing list, but we may share with other non-profit arts organizations. See also STUDENT RECORDS. If you do not wish to be on one or both of the above-mentioned lists please contact the registrar.

We also photograph students in classrooms and around the facilities for use in our class schedules. Please inform the photographer if you do not wish your image to be used.

GRADE POLICIES

Pittsburgh Filmmakers will not tolerate cheating or plagiarism in any form, including: direct copying of (un-credited) writing from other sources such as books, magazines, the Internet; use of other people's media work without identifying it as such; use of assignments produced for other classes without the permission of the current instructor. Consequences of cheating or plagiarism will be: first offense -- failure/grade of zero on the exam or assignment; second offense - failure of the course.

FINAL GRADES

All students, including independent students taking classes on a non-credit basis, will be assigned an official letter grade as follows:

A	excellent work	D	poor work
B	good work	F	extremely poor work
C	fair work	I	Incomplete (see Incomplete Policy)
W	Withdrawal (see Withdrawal Policy)

Each instructor's syllabus will address his or her policies regarding how attendance (classes, labs and T.A. sessions as applicable) affects grading – be sure to read your copy of the syllabus. Instructors may also assign a plus or a minus following the letter grade, which will remain on Pittsburgh Filmmakers' records and will be taken into account when considering eligibility for a Certificate or advancement into upper-level classes. Students who register for advanced classes must have received a grade of "C" or better in prerequisite courses.

Independent non-credit students may request an official transcript from the Registrar. The cost for each official transcript is $3.00; an application form will be mailed with the student's individual grade report, or may be obtained from the Reception Desk or from the Registrar. Student work must be claimed within 90 days of the end of the semester. Instructors will attempt to notify students; the work will be disposed of if there is no response.

INCOMPLETES

Students may request a grade of Incomplete for their course when they have been unable to complete course work due to circumstances beyond the student's control (extended illness, family tragedy, etc.). If you have failed to properly budget your time or finances or if you have just not done the work you are ineligible to receive the Incomplete. You will then be assigned a letter grade based on the work you have completed in class. Students are also ineligible for an Incomplete due to missed classes. Incompletes are not to be used to make up missed instructional time. See your copy of the syllabus for policies regarding make-up work.

If you feel that you must ask for an Incomplete, please do so at least one week prior to the end of the semester. If your instructor agrees to request an Incomplete grade for you, he or she can provide an Incomplete Request Form that you must fill out, sign and date and have your instructor sign and date. Your instructor must list an official final due date for the project on the form, and must specify the grade to be issued should the required work not be completed by the agreed-upon deadline. Normally, all work must be completed during the first four weeks of the following semester.

The Incomplete is not approved until the Director of Education reviews the form and signs it. If your Incomplete is not approved, your instructor will assign a grade based on the work that was done.

Students whose Incomplete requests have been approved will be required to pay an additional fee if it is necessary that they access facilities and equipment in order to complete their projects. An Incomplete Access ID card will be issued. The fee will be $25 per month (based on calendar month, not 30 days) or $25 for the entire period between end of fall and beginning of spring (there will be no rebates for less than 4 weeks).

WITHDRAWAL AS A FINAL GRADE

(see also Drops, Withdrawals and Schedule Changes)

Students taking classes on a credit basis through a college or university may withdraw from a course provided they follow the guidelines and policies as set forth by their individual school.

Non-credit students must request a Withdrawal from the instructor in place of a standard letter grade. In this case, the student will be considered to have neither passed nor failed the class. (A grade of W does not allow the student to move on to the next level.) Withdrawals are allowed at the discretion of the instructor. Any student who ceases to attend class without requesting the grade of W will receive a grade of F.

STUDENT RECORDS

Students may have access to their records at any time by contacting the Registrar, Dory Perry, at 412-681-5449 ext. 202. Student records consist of contact information, each semester's class schedule with grades and record of payment, any pertinent correspondence or official forms (e.g. Waiver of Prerequisite), and copies of transcripts or Certificates issued. See also PRIVACY STATEMENT.

GRIEVANCES

Any student with a complaint regarding grades or alleged plagiarism (see GRADE POLICIES) should first attempt to resolve the matter with their instructor. If no satisfactory solution is reached, the next step is for the student to contact the Registrar. Patrons may view material from the library collection or bring their own material. Students and Access Members can only view media from the library collection in-house during regular library hours.

FACULTY MAILBOXES

Mailboxes for faculty are located in Room 207 on the second floor. If you need to leave a message for your instructor, drop off or pick up a project, use this mailbox. There are wooden shelves for photography portfolios. Student work must be claimed within 90 days of the end of the semester. Work that is not picked up will be thrown away.

BULLETIN BOARDS

There are bulletin boards listing events, artist opportunities, job opportunities, students and services for hire, items to buy/sell/trade, located across from the In-House equipment office -- check these boards regularly. You will also see gray bulletin boards scattered throughout the building. These will hold Seminar Room Schedules and other Education Department-specific announcements.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

Students are eligible to apply to a Certificate Program after completing two courses at Pittsburgh Filmmakers. Other entrance requirements are explained in the Certificate Program Handbook.

Pittsburgh Filmmakers' students may earn a Certificate in Film Production, Digital Video, or Photography by completing the requirements listed on the checksheets in the Certificate Program Handbook. Students must take a minimum of 12 courses at Pittsburgh Filmmakers in order to fulfill the requirements. Please contact the registrar for an application to a Certificate program.

INTERNSHIPS

Advanced students wishing to pursue careers in media production are encouraged to seek internships through Pittsburgh Filmmakers. The program is designed to give students valuable work experience in their chosen field outside of the classroom environment. Film and video students have interned with local production companies, television stations, feature films, and media artists; photography students have been placed with freelance photographers, agencies, publications, and curators. Students work with the Internship Coordinator to find a suitable position before registering for the Internship course (FLM 298, VID 298, PHT 298 or DIG 298). Interested students should contact Will Zavala, Internship Coordinator, at ext. 219, or wzavala@pfpca.org.

OUT-OF-HOUSE EQUIPMENT ACCESS

Once a student has registered and paid the tuition and course fees for a class, he or she will be given access (beginning with the second week of class) to the equipment necessary to complete the work in that class. During the first class session a member of the Operations staff will hand out and explain the Operations Handbook. It is essential that students obtain, read, and keep the booklet as it explains the procedures and responsibilities that come with equipment access. All students will be held to the terms of the Operations Handbook.

By the second class session student ID cards will be available at the in-house equipment office. This ID card must be presented when equipment is checked out and it will not be returned until all equipment has been checked in satisfactorily. The student must be present during the checkout period to pick equipment up. A responsible third party may return the equipment at the specified check-in time, and the Operations staff will hold the student's ID card until the student picks it up in person. There is a $5.00 fee to replace a lost ID card.

Students may reserve equipment in person or by phone up to 2 weeks in advance. Equipment is usually checked out for up to 48 hours at a time, though it is possible to receive an extension from the Operations staff. Please refer to the Operations Handbook for details.

IN-HOUSE EQUIPMENT ACCESS & AFTER HOURS ACCESS

Computers, film projectors, photo darkroom kits, film and video editing equipment and other specialty items cannot be taken out of the building at any time. These items are considered in-house equipment. If reservations are necessary these items can also be reserved up to two weeks in advance, but often for only several hours at a time. This does not mean that the student can only work for a few hours at a time, however. For example, a 16mm editing machine can only be reserved for 4 hours a day. If a student reserves that machine for a 10am - 2pm session, another student can reserve it for 2pm. If no one has the machine reserved for 2pm, and no one is waiting to use it, the student can continue working until someone else arrives to use it. In addition, students may be granted after-hours access privileges. A student could then reserve equipment beyond closing time (for example, on a night when PF closes at 9pm, the student could reserve for "6pm to after hours") and work as late as necessary. The student must begin working before closing, at which time the operations staff will sign in all after-hours workers. When finished the student must sign out, lock up the room or equipment, and make sure the outside door closes and locks behind him or her. During after hours no one can leave and re-enter the building, and no one can let another person into the building, EVEN ANOTHER STUDENT. This is a serious safety issue and anyone caught breaking these rules will lose after-hours privileges, will be fined, and may be denied access to all Pittsburgh Filmmakers facilities.

Materials

Some materials, such as darkroom chemistry and film cement, are provided through course fee payments by Pittsburgh Filmmakers, but students are responsible for the majority of film, video, and photography supplies necessary for a class. Students should be prepared to spend $75-100 for a Motion Picture Fundamentals course, $200-400 for a Film Production I course, $300-800 for a Film Production II course; $50-200 for either a Video Production I or II course; $150-250 for a Black & White Photography I course, $200-300 for a Black & White Photography II course, and $150-250 for a Color Photography I course.

Several film labs offer student discounts. Up to date information will be provided in class. Hard-to-find materials, such as film leader and splicing tape, high-grade videotapes and thumb drives, are sold at the in-house equipment office. A price list is posted next to the window.

INTERIM EQUIPMENT ACCESS

Access to in-house and out-of-house equipment may be requested during the interims between semesters by completing a form available from the Reception Desk or from the Registrar. You must have taken a class during the semester just ended, and you must be registered for the next semester coming. You may combine the registration fees with your access fee. Interim Access covers a) breaks between semesters or b) May/June/July/August calendar months (1st to 30th/31st). The cost is $25.00 per calendar month (or any portion thereof) for each type of access requested, or for semester break regardless of length. It is not permissible to substitute Interim Access for Incomplete Access.

LOCKERS

Lockers are available at the In-house Equipment window on a first-come, first-served basis. A locker rents for $4.00 per semester, including a padlock. Because of the high demand, lockers are usually rented by the second week of the semester. Students wanting to maintain a locker must pay the rental fee at the end of each semester. Items left in unpaid lockers are subject to eviction.

FINANCIAL AID

Pittsburgh Filmmakers does not have a Financial Aid Office and does not participate in Title IV programs. Students taking courses for college credit can explore financial aid opportunities at their individual colleges. Pittsburgh Filmmakers recognizes that the media arts are expensive, and offers the following aids for students:

Pittsburgh Filmmakers Scholarship Programs

The Pittsburgh Filmmakers School of Film, Photography and Digital Media offers full and partial scholarships to students demonstrating financial need. Full scholarships cover all tuition and course fees except for a $35 payment due at the time of class registration, and include a small cash grant for class expenses.

The Scholarship Program for New Students is open to first-time students who wish to enroll in an introductory course on a non-credit basis. The Continuing Student Scholarship Program is open to any non-Certificate student who has taken at least one class at Pittsburgh Filmmakers and who wishes to enroll on a non-credit basis.

Applications and guidelines are available at filmmakers.pfpca.org/school/classes/scholarships. For more information, contact John Cantine, Scholarship Coordinator, jcantine@pfpca.org or 412-681-5449 x215.

Pittsburgh Filmmakers Eastman Film Award

Each semester a panel of filmmaking instructors reviews applications from advanced film students and awards up to 1600' of 16mm film stock to deserving projects. Applications are usually available by the third week of each semester and the deadline for applications is usually close to mid-term.

Eastman Kodak Educational Allowance Program

Pittsburgh Filmmakers students are eligible for a 20% discount on all 16mm film stocks purchased directly from Eastman Kodak. Discount forms are available from Brady Lewis or John Cantine, and the form must have the signature of one of these two faculty members on it in order to be honored by Kodak.

Pittsburgh Filmmakers First Works Grant

Offered once per year in the spring, the Pittsburgh Filmmakers First Works Grant is designed to assist beginning film and video makers in creating a polished first work, which can then be used as a sample work to secure future funding. Through this, we hope to encourage a new generation of artists with new perspectives on life and art.

Grants may be used to either complete works in progress or to create new works. Funds will be given directly to the artist and must be spent on the production of non-commercial independent films or videos. The maximum individual grant is $1000. The program is funded by Carnegie Mellon University, the University of Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh Filmmakers.

Pittsburgh Filmmakers Emerging Photographers Grant

Offered once per year in the fall, this program awards small grants to allow photographers to create exhibition-quality works, and is open to any photography student or artist member at Pittsburgh Filmmakers.

TRANSPORTATION

University of Pittsburgh students may take advantage of Pitt's North Oakland Shuttle service from central Oakland to the corner of Melwood Avenue and Baum Boulevard. Carnegie Mellon University students may also use Pitt's shuttle service with valid student ID. Between 7 p.m. and 3 a.m., Pitt's Van Call is available by calling 412-264-1700.

Students may also use the following PATransit buses

71C Wilksburg -- stops at Centre Ave. & Melwood Ave.

PARKING

The parking lot across the street from Pittsburgh Filmmakers is University of Pittsburgh lot "PF," a permit-only lot patrolled by University of Pittsburgh police. Any Filmmakers' student may purchase a parking permit for daytime parking from the Parking Office on the Pitt campus (412-624-4034). A letter of confirmation of registration from PF is required; any students registered through local colleges may obtain a copy of a confirmation letter by contacting the Registrar. The upper lot is reserved for staff only.

EXHIBITIONS

There are usually four student screenings each year. Early in the Fall and Winter/Spring semesters an open screening is held in which any film or video made in a Pittsburgh Filmmakers class can be shown. At the end of each semester, students completing Film Production and Digital Video Certificates are required to show their thesis films in a public exhibition. All shows are open to the public and are held in one of Pittsburgh Filmmakers' theaters.

Students completing Photography Certificates will exhibit their work in the Melwood Gallery.

Outside Exhibitions

Pittsburgh Filmmakers operates three movie theaters: The Harris Theater on Liberty Avenue in the Downtown Cultural District, the Regent Square Theater at 1035 S. Braddock Avenue in Edgewood and the Melwood Screening Room in the main facility at 477 Melwood Avenue. These theaters show a continuously changing program of American independent and foreign films that usually will not be shown anywhere else in the area, and they represent a valuable resource for film and video students. Pittsburgh Filmmakers students receive a discount by showing their student ID card.

The Melwood Gallery is located in the main facility, outside the Melwood Screening Room. We exhibit the work of several established fine art photographers each year as well as occasional shows by photography faculty and members. Photographic work is also exhibited at The Basement Gallery under the Harris Theater.
